

STATE REPRESENTATIVE TOM JONES

PROUDLY SERVING THE 98TH LEGISLATIVE DISTRICT

Responsible Budgeting is a Must

For years, Pennsylvania has done budgeting the same way, which has led to excessive spending during good years. During recessions it forced policymakers to choose between immediate spending cuts and tax hikes, evading the balance rule or being open to federal bailouts.

That is why I authored the Responsible Budgeting Act (House Bill 1947) that includes a spending limit that reflects trend economic growth with a deficit brake, limits on raising revenue, a reserve fund, and provisions for emergency spending and disposition of excess revenue through tax rebates and debt reduction.

As we quickly approach the fiscal year 2026-27 budget season, I believe it is of the utmost importance to ensure Pennsylvania is budgeting properly, within our means and with sound safeguards in place. My bill would provide policy stability even in a dynamic economy. The resulting increase in policy predictability promotes economic growth and reduces stress for policymakers and the public. Policymakers can focus more on higher-value policy than reacting to frequent economic and fiscal shifts.

Cash Now Accepted at School Events

Great news! A new state law makes cash an acceptable form of payment for admission to school-sponsored events in Pennsylvania.

Many schools across the Commonwealth stopped accepting cash as a form of payment for school-sponsored events and activities, instead requiring spectators to use credit or debit cards, or order tickets online or through an app. This doesn't work for people who, for various reasons, may not have credit cards or smart phones, or the technical capabilities to access the internet to purchase tickets.

Ticket purchases through the internet or apps also require buyers to surrender a lot of personal information, which is particularly troublesome for senior citizens, a group often targeted by scams.

For many who simply want to see their child, grandchild or friends play ball, the new law permits them to purchase tickets with cash – the legal currency of the United States.

AROUND THE DISTRICT AND BEYOND

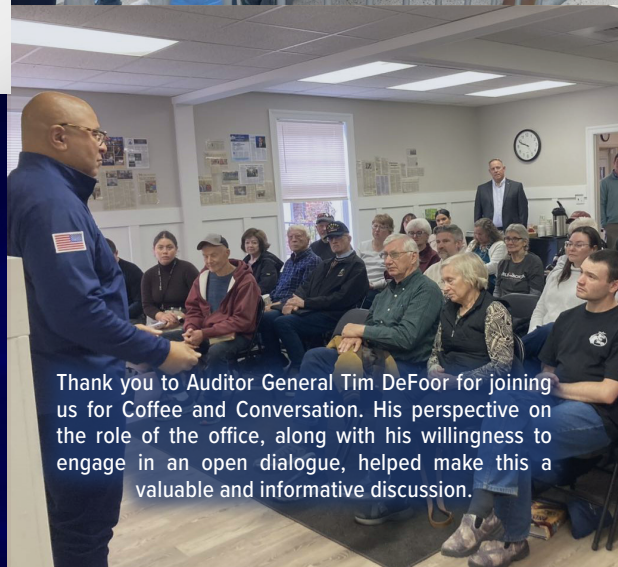

It was an incredible privilege to tour the Lickdale Veterans Outreach Center and Fort Indiantown Gap with the Department of Military and Veterans Affairs and the Pennsylvania National Guard.

Rochelle and I had a fantastic time celebrating Reist Popcorn Company's 100-year anniversary in Mount Joy. This milestone honors a century of dedication and family tradition, now carried into the fourth generation of ownership.

The Pennsylvania March for Life was a great opportunity to stand together for life, for families and for our very first God-given right. May we all have the courage to stand and speak out for life every day!

Thank you to Auditor General Tim DeFoor for joining us for Coffee and Conversation. His perspective on the role of the office, along with his willingness to engage in an open dialogue, helped make this a valuable and informative discussion.
